

What you're saying is you get this entire thing and the gift certificate for one you like? I think that's terrific because a lot of people don't know what to get anybody.

I thought VivaBox was super cool. I loved it so much that I included it in my Healthy Living Gift Guide!

I have tried some of the items in the vivabox and enjoyed them very much--it was very relaxing...I desperately need to get myself a manicure & pedicure, too. It's a great package – thank you!

I really like these lovely gifts. I went online and looked at the whole selection and I think this is a cool idea—plus the recipient gets two gifts!

I finally got a chance to look through your site (and choose my gift) and I really think Vivabox is a unique idea that Juli b readers would love for the holidays. We have monthly picks coming out this week and beauty picks next week, I just have to decide where I want it!
Laura Norkin, Assistant Editor Juli B.

Thanks so much for the Spa sample. It is definitely a unique idea for our experiential section. I am passing it along to my co-workers for possible inclusion in this year's gift guide!
Kate Leffingwell, Newsweek Magazine

I just reread the info that came with the vivabox; think it's a great idea. It's more personal than a gift card and gives the recipient choices too. We'll be running this in the Editor's Picks column early next year!

It's going to be in the Gift Guide! I love the idea, and the menu selection feature is really a nice touch. Plus, the amaretto cookies are to die for. Really great.

Just wanted to let you know that I did receive the Gourmet to Your Door Vivabox...it came surprisingly early, and I have to say it was quite a thrill to open with a beautiful presentation and simple instructions, so I am sure it will do very well with your consumers...it really does transform the idea of a gift card into something much more experiential."

I just received my Vivabox today, and I LOVE it! Thank you so much for alerting me to this product and for sending me the sample. I plan to post about the product this week, so it'll be on the site tomorrow or Friday at the latest.

What we love about these versatile boxes is that they allow you to show that you know your bridesmaid or groomsman, but they also give the gift recipient the freedom to choose what he or she wants for himself or herself (without the impersonal quality of a gift certificate). What could be a more thoughtful token of your appreciation?

This company has it all. Not only does this package include various products in the category, but a gift card of the recipient's choice.
